Acrobat 3.0 is the fastest way to publish any document on-line.

Take the PDF file you're looking at now, for example. It was converted to PDF in a flash, complete with fonts, formatting, colors, and images, using Acrobat 3.0 software. Then, hypertext links and annotations were added for easy exploration. And Acrobat 3.0 optimized the file, making it compact and efficient for fast on-line viewing on any platform—Macintosh,® Windows,® or UNIX—with Acrobat Reader. You can even use Acrobat Reader or Acrobat 3.0 to view PDF files within the leading Web browsers.
